The essays in this collection signal a new relationship between anthropology and the study of art. The authors explore the boundaries and affinities between art, anthropology, representation, and culture, casting a critical ethnographic light on the art worlds of the contemporary West and their traffic in non-Western objects. Starting from the premise that the traditional anthropology of art has been developed within categories and practices of Western art, From the Inside Flap: The Traffic in Culture takes us along exciting new avenues in the investigation of art and society, global encounter, and the marketing of culture. These essays will become required reading to scholars in fields as diverse as art
