This new revised edition of African Civilizations re-examines the physical evidence for developing social complexity in Africa over the last six thousand years. Unlike the two previous editions, it is not confined to tropical Africa but considers the whole continent. Graham Connah focuses upon the archaeological research of two key aspects of complexity: urbanism and state formation in ten main areas of Africa: Egypt, North Africa, Nubia, Ethiopia, the West African savanna. About the Author: Graham Connah is Emeritus Professor of Archaeology at the University of New England, Australia, and a Visiting Fellow at the Australian National University, Canberra. His earlier book, Three Thousand Years in Africa (1981), won the Amaury Talbot Prize.
