By Townsend Price-Spratlen, William Goldsby : Reconstructing Rage: Transformative Reentry in the Era of Mass Incarceration (Black Studies and Critical Thinking) Reconstructing Rage: Transformative Reentry in the Era of Mass Incarceration (Black Studies and Critical Thinking):

0 of 0 review helpful Rage of injustice and fighting for justice realized By E Melchiondo This book is both an interesting historical account of the creation and mission of Reconstruction Inc and an honest and open analysis of the group s frame work and its struggles to maintain its capacity building strength As a result I found this book to be very honest It s a read that transports the reader into another state of One in every 31 U S adults is in the penal system This mass incarceration is by far the largest in the world African Americans are disproportionately imprisoned and challenged by the consequences of incarceration in education jobs voting and other aspects of life Since 96 percent of those imprisoned are released there is an urgent need for resources and research that can improve reentry outcomes Reconstructing Rage analyzes how ndash and how well ndash About the Author Townsend Price Spratlen PhD University of Washington is Associate Professor in the Department of Sociology at The Ohio State University He has been a member of Reconstruction Inc since the organization began and now serves on the Advisory
